About the book

This title provides an authoritative review on the adoption and spread of Conservation Agriculture (CA) systems in different regions around the world. It documents the multi-stakeholder research and development effort that has been going on in the different countries to assist farmers to adopt CA in differing agroecological and socio-economic contexts and refers to the wealth of research and experiential evidence currently available.

About the editor

Professor Amir Kassam is Visiting Professor at the University of Reading (UK) and Moderator of the FAO-hosted Global Platform for Conservation Agriculture Community of Practice (Global CA-CoP). He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Biology (UK) and has received an OBE from the British Government for services to tropical agriculture and to rural development.
